What is Dry Eye?

Dry Eye (also known as Dry Eye Syndrome or Dry Eye Disease) is a common condition affecting people of all ages. It occurs when there is an insufficient volume and/or quality of tears to keep the surface of the eye sufficiently lubricated. This can result in eye discomfort.

More than 2 in 5 people in the population currently suffer with Dry eye.<sup>1</sup>

The surface of your eye is covered by a thin layer of tears, called the Tear Film. Your Tear Film has several important functions; it washes, protects, nourishes and lubricates the eye.

A healthy Tear Film is maintained by blinking. Blinking replenishes the tears and oils necessary for healthy vision. Tears are produced by several systems, and if any part of these systems break down, it can result in a reduced quality or quantity of tears. If this occurs, it can result in Dry Eye Disease.

Understanding skin conditions

Dry skin

Almost everyone suffers with dry skin at some time. Dry skin becomes problematic when it leads to itching, cracking or bleeding. Then it can become uncomfortable, painful and at risk of infection.

Factors affecting dry skin:

- Very frequent hand washing and the use of alcohol-based sanitisers can lead to very dry skin on the hands
- Dry air (particularly in centrally heated environments)
- Cold weather – Dry skin conditions are more common in winter months
- Age – Skin naturally loses its ability to retain moisture as we get older

Eczema

In the UK, around 15 million people have atopic eczema (or atopic dermatitis), a chronic skin condition that causes dry, irritated skin that can be itchy, red, cracked and sore. It varies greatly, from small patches of affected skin to large areas of the body which are itchy and painful.

'Flare-ups' are a common part of the eczema experience, when a sufferer's condition becomes noticeably worse. At these times, they are likely to need different treatments and skin care regimes.

What causes eczema flare-ups?

Many factors can make eczema worse. These may include:

- Irritants such as soaps, detergents and other chemicals
- Heat, dust, woollen clothing and pet allergies
- Being unwell
- Stress

Help relieve dry, sensitive and eczema prone skin everyday with Cetraben.

We believe that no-one should feel uncomfortable in their own skin and have a range of products to help every customer feel more confident and in control.

Good advice for effective skin care

- Moisturise skin as often as possible, ideally at least 2-3 times each day.
- Apply a cream like Cetraben generously – many people do not apply as much cream or lotion as they should for optimum skin hydration.
- Wash with a cleansing moisturiser like Cetraben Daily Cleansing Cream.
- Avoid soap, bubble baths, shower gels and detergents.
- Scratching is a natural urge, but it can prevent eczema from healing and lead to scarring.
- An emollient like Cetraben not only hydrates the skin, but works to soothe the itching and help break the itch-scratch cycle.

HEAD LICE. THE FACTS.

Finding lice on a child's head can be a worrying discovery for parents and carers - especially if they are encountering head lice for the first time. Many consumers look to pharmacies for help and advice. At Hedrin, we understand these feelings and the kind of support your customers need. Please use this guide to help you answer your customers' questions and guide them towards the most effective solution.

WHAT ARE HEAD LICE?

Head lice can affect anyone but are most common in children aged between 3 and 11. The lice are tiny insects that live on the scalp, feeding by sucking blood from the skin.

WHAT ARE NITS?

Nits are head lice eggs. Female lice attach them firmly to hairs at the bottom of the shaft. This is why lice eggs can be hard to remove, and why simply killing adult lice is not enough to remove an infestation.

CHECKING FOR HEAD LICE

Lice and their eggs can be hard to spot, especially for people new to the problem. A fine tooth detection comb is helpful, as the lice are easier to see when they have been picked up by the comb. Once a live louse has been found, you should advise customers to:

- Check everyone in the household.
- Treat the problem as soon as possible.
- Protect the scalp and prevent a future infestation.

WHAT ABOUT RESISTANCE?

Traditionally, head lice treatments have used pesticide-based formulas to kill the lice. However, it is known that head lice can build up resistance to the chemicals used, reducing their effectiveness. Hedrin is a non-pesticide treatment which works by physically immobilising the louse. It is this physical mode of action which means lice cannot become immune to non-pesticide treatments.

Current NICE guidance recommends that a physical insecticide, such as dimeticone, is used as a first-line treatment before using a chemical pesticide.

Other physically-active formulas including Octanediol and isononyl isononanoate have become available more recently.
